I worked with Chelsea on several projects at Ascentium and was impressed by the intelligence and skill she brought to her work. Her design extensions were thoughtful and true to the art direction. She asked the right kind of questions, sought feedback throughout the process, and delivered quality results. Her background in testing gives her a sharp eye for design detail and an awareness of development constraints. Chelsea is committed and caring - frequently going beyond the call of duty to meet deadlines. She is also a genuinely nice person and a pleasure to work with.
